WE NOMINATE

Edgar Carl Warren, capable, publicity-shy Clerk of the 134-year old Borough of Princeton whose passion for anonymity is exceeded only by his unwavering devotion to the Borough's best interests. Now on the threshold of his third decade of public service, Warren at the age of 48 is as much of a Princeton landmark as Borough Hall itself and, to the certain knowledge of those close to the municipality's executive offices, is the epitome of efficiency in the sphere of local government.

A native of Moores, Pennsylvania, Warren first saw Nassau Street in 1911, just as the University was preparing to designate John Grier Hibben as its fourteenth president. Upon completing his secondary education in local schools, he joined the staff of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company and invested his evenings in the future—studying business administration at Trenton's Rider College. Some three years with the Navy during World War I were followed by something more than a return to mere post-war normalcy, for in July of 1920 Warren was married to the former May Molzen, of Princeton.

After severing connections with a local retail business, Warren entered the University Treasurer's Office and remained there until 1927 when, with the late Mulford Updike occupying the mayoralty and to the Borough's unceasing advantage, he accepted appointment to his present position. First in the "Old Stable" on Mercer Street, near Ivy Hall, the home of the University's short-lived Law School in the mid-nineteenth century, and for the past seven years in Thomson Hall, bequeathed to the Borough as a town hall by Mrs. Josephine Thomson Swann, he has injected into the administration of the Borough's affairs a remarkable sense of continuity.

Warren, an avowed Republican, has succeeded in maintaining complete impartiality in the execution of his duties. In an era of bureaucratic bungling and in the face of unprecedented wartime extension of governmental responsibilities, this former secretary of the Mercer County League of Municipalities, who has commanded Princeton Post No. 76 of the American Legion and has served Trinity Episcopal Church as vestryman, has never forgotten that the welfare of a community's citizens is the be-all and end-all of municipal administration.

For the depth of his perception in visualizing the future needs of a growing Princeton; for giving freely of himself, year after year, to an exacting and frequently thankless job; for rigid adherence to the Wilsonian ideal of "The Borough in The Borough's Service"; he is—at the risk of incurring his extreme displeasure—TOWN TOPICS' candidate for Haste Makes Trouble. Pleasant, serious-minded Paul Chesebro, who presides over the Borough's police court after dismissing his last class at Princeton High School, this week had a word of warning for all motorists: accidents are on the upswing, more cars are on the road, stiffer fines are needed to impress the average driver that speeding is distinctly dangerous.

With a 20 mile an hour limit as the law, Recorder Chesebro has set a new schedule of fines:

21 to 34 m.p.h. up to $10
34 to 39 m.p.h. 10
40 to 44 m.p.h. 15
45 to 49 m.p.h. 20
50 m.p.h. 25
Each mile over 50 m.p.h. ... 5

In all cases, costs of court are extra. Speed traps will not be operated, but police cruiser cars will be unusually vigilant. Said Mr. Chesebro: "If we prevent even a single accident, we will have accomplished our goal."

Higher Rates Sought. If the Board of Public Utility Commissioners approves the request of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, your monthly bill for service will increase from $3.25 to $4.50. If you're on a two-party line, it will go from $2.75 to $3.75.

In asking for its first general increase in 21 years, the company points out, logically enough, that there are a lot more people you can call here than in 1925.

Rosedale Lockers. We've seen the name, we've had a vague idea of what it covered; but it took a visit to the Rosedale Lockers itself really to impress us with all that appertained thereto. To begin with, there are the lockers. In one large room are the deep freezing unit and the food storage lockers. They are all built into the floor, thereby enabling you to stay in the room as long as you need to without fighting the sub-zero temperatures which usually detract from the pleasure of having a private food locker.

An electric hoist which runs on its own tramway and raises each locker when needed is so fascinating that you will find the time spent just watching it is considerable. The only drawback to going down today with food to be frozen and stored in your own locker is the present waiting list; but there will be additional space available shortly, and adding your name to the list would be, we think, a wise move for anyone.

In addition to the lockers and the frozen vegetables, fruits and ice cream for sale at Rosedale, there is a complete and modern setup for butchering and all that goes with it. Any future main course, from hog to deer, can be brought in one door, slaughtered, cooled, hung, butchered and, if you want, smoked—much of it by an intriguing system of hoisting and tramways. We don't mean to sound unsympathetic with the innocent victim of this well-planned system, but the finished product is exceedingly tempting.

A special word for the smoking, which can be done to any kind of meat desired and, judging from the fragrance which surrounds them, rival the best which the South has to offer. Incidentally, if you don't have any meat or poultry to bring, you can get anything, plain or smoked, right there.

Blouses. From a nice selection of blouses at Bert-Ann's, 230 Nassau Street, two styles especially appealed to us. Both are rayon crepe; both come in lovely colors, sizes 12 to 18; both are $10.95.

The first is simply tailored, but because of its unusual touches, strikingly different. A high, pointed collar is highlighted by a huge gold button, with a wide tuck across the front to add to its individuality. Though the blouse comes with short sleeves, we preferred the gracefully full long-sleeved version with its exaggerated cuff wearing its own large gold button. The colors are Frick Auditorium. Eric von Stroheim's classic, "Greed," will be offered this Friday in Frick by Princeton Group Arts. It will be preceded at 7 o'clock by "Love Finds Andy Hardy," with Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, since Group Arts feels its younger membership will far prefer the latter offering. Tickets will be honored for either show.

The second series of these revivals, starting February 28, will present such favorites as Greta Garbo's "Anna Christie"; "All Quiet on the Western Front;" four excellent documentaries in "Rain," "Night Mail," "The City" and "The River"; the late, lovable W. C. Fields in "Million Dollar Legs" and "The Maltese Falcon," a bang-up mystery. Apply at Group Arts, 14 Spring Street, for membership.

The Playhouse

It's a Wonderful Life (Fri., Sat.) is a warm-hearted comedy which borrows largely on fantasy for its humor and charm. James Stewart does his best to solve the financial problems of friends and neighbors in his small community, but it takes help from above to turn the final trick. It's easily one of the best films of 1946.

The Razor's Edge (All Week) traces the pilgrimage of a war veteran seeking spiritual salvation and escape from the mundane duties and pleasures of daily life. The sound theme on which Somerset Maugham developed his novel has been overplayed in the film, a lush, long, multi-million dollar extravaganza which seeks to dazzle the customers and blind them to its faults. Box office receipts show it has generally succeeded but it does not pass muster here. With Gene Tierney (who will never be an actress), royal, kelly, scarlet and a positively edible shade of pink.

The other blouse is a bit dressier but just as unfussy: a high round neck and smooth unadorned lines are accentuated by a mildly quilted set-in panel over the shoulders. The sleeves are the cap type, and the colors are brown, flesh pink and aqua.

Rugs. Roughly, "rugs" covers it; specifically, it is a great deal more than that, from cleaning and repairing the ones you have to selling you anything that can be bought in the way of new ones. By "it," we mean the new Rug Mart on the Somerville Road just below Township Hall.

The sale angle is handled, we think, very smartly. Instead of cluttering up the store with sample rugs of all sorts that would become worn and useless in the long run, there are a few on hand for people in a hurry. Those who would rather take their time to get exactly what they want can go in, describe their needs, and shortly be provided with samples from which to choose and order.

Among the well-known makes available are Mohawks, Bigelow-Sanford and Karagheusians in the broadlooms—all, once more, made of 100 per cent wool. In addition to stair carpets and a variety of scatter rugs, there is a wealth of Ripple Twist shag rugs. They are, we were told, the best of the shag class, and on a basis of their thickness and all-woven backs, we well believe it.

"Better Call a Doctor!"

No one ever gave better, sounder counsel than that. Home remedies and hit-or-miss prescriptions are dangerous, and in the end may prove far more costly than capable medical counsel. Don't delay. In every case, call a doctor. And take no chances with the prescription he gives you. Bring it to this Reliable drug store to be filled. Our large volume of prescription business assures fresh, potent drugs and fair prices.

THORNE DRUG STORE

168 Nassau Street

Another good buy for the floor spots that take the worst beating, such as offices, children's rooms and porches, are the Flaxtex all-linen rugs. They come in several colors and are reversible, wear and fire-resistant.

The cleaning and repairing departments are also most complete. An up-to-date method of cleaning—in your own house or at The Rug Mart—involves an all-over shampooing with a machine that lathers and loosens dirt and is directly followed by an equally efficient mechanism which picks up the lather fast, dries and applies the finishing cleaning touches as it goes. This is the kind of rug-cleaning service that usually comes only with living in big cities. We hope Princeton appreciates its luck in having it here.
